

NIKE CODE OF CONDUCT

INSIDE THE LINES

WELCOME

Every day, we make decisions that affect Nike as a company. No matter where we sit, our choices have significant impact on our reputation and trust with consumers, teammates, investors, and stakeholders ranging from local communities to governments around the world. In other words, what we do matters – and so does our judgment.

That's why Nike's Code of Conduct is so important. It provides the basic legal framework and essential behaviors that help us make the right decisions. In a world of constant transformation, it is impossible to spell out every ethical scenario we could potentially face. Instead, the Code offers us a shared vision, one that outlines who we are and how we work.

I urge all Nike employees to be guided by both the letter and the spirit of our Code of Conduct. Sometimes, identifying the right thing to do isn't an easy call. If you aren't sure, don't be afraid to speak up and seek guidance from any of the resources identified in the Code. I can't overstate the importance of staying diligent in reporting any concerns or potential violations of the Code as soon as they arise – without exception. As an organization, we cannot and will not tolerate any retaliation or negative reaction against employees who raise concerns.

As you read our Code of Conduct, I hope you will consider what it says and use it as a guide. Strive to do good in all that you do. Speak up if you have a concern or see something wrong, and ask for help when faced with difficult situations.

At Nike, we are naturally competitive. But throughout it all, we want to win fairly and, as always, win as a team.

Best,

Robert Leinwand

EVP Chief Legal Officer

OUR HERITAGE

The Maxims

1. SERVE ATHLETES*
2. CREATE THE FUTURE OF SPORT
3. BE ON THE OFFENSE ALWAYS
4. DO THE RIGHT THING
5. WIN AS A TEAM

On a cold, rainy day in Portland, Oregon, a coach and his former athlete met for lunch to discuss a possible business partnership. One hour later, Phil Knight and Bill Bowerman shook hands, founding the company that would later become Nike. It was January 25, 1964.

The culture of the company they founded can be seen in that handshake: Trust. Honesty. Shared excitement. Commitment. The ideals embodied in that moment come to life every time somebody interacts with us, our brands and our business.

Today, we serve our athletes in virtually all countries around the world. It's our relentless focus on doing right for the consumer that has driven our growth over the decades. Continuing to capture that growth requires sustained focus and commitment. Like the athletes who inspire us, we work hard every day. Our values, reflected in our Maxims, are unbreakable and everlasting.

As our team grows in size, we remain united by a love of sport. It teaches us to be competitive, but always play fair. To be inclusive, collaborative and respectful. To give back by improving lives in the communities where we live and work – proving that our commitment to athletes isn't just what we do, but in how we do it. We are passionate about our own potential, and when we're working together there's no telling what we can do.

OUR RESPONSIBILITIES

ACT LIKE AN OWNER

Use Nike's resources in a way that would make you proud.

At Nike, we know the importance of Doing the Right Thing. No matter how big Nike may get, we stay accountable by making the best possible decisions around people, assets and resources. We must always use an “edit to amplify” approach to the opportunities before us, to be intentional about choosing those investments that deliver the most impact to our business.

This roadmap is intended to help you navigate through the decision-making process:

1. Follow the Rules – Does it follow Nike policy and the law?
 2. Serve Nike's Interests – Does it serve a legitimate Nike business purpose and not just one personal to me?
 3. Drive Efficiency – Have I explored a smarter, faster, more economical way to achieve the same result?
 4. Consider Implications – Have I considered how this decision might affect others?
 5. Accept Responsibility – Have I considered how this decision will look to others and how I would feel if it were made public?

PLAY FAIR

Act with integrity, and inspire others to follow your lead.

As members of the Nike team, we count on each other to live our values and act ethically. Follow our Code as well as the laws and regulations of the countries where we work, and protect what we've built.

Managers have an even greater responsibility – to demonstrate high performance with high integrity. Acting with integrity is about more than reading a set of policies and checking a box. It's about always acting ethically – in small moments and big ones.

Everything we do matters, and we are all in this together.

SPEAK UP

Make your voice heard, even if it's just to ask a question.

If you see or suspect anything illegal, unethical or inappropriate, speak up. You do not need to be sure something is wrong or have all the details to raise a concern. You may report your concern anonymously, where permitted by law.

Nike will treat your report seriously, fairly and promptly. We do not tolerate retaliation.

Reporting Options

- Use the Speak Up Portal (phone or website; anonymous where permitted).
- Contact Human Resources or Ethics & Compliance.
- Contact your manager or another leader.

Nike investigates all allegations thoroughly. Employees must not initiate investigations on their own. Cooperation in investigations is required.

OUR TEAM

MATTER OF RESPECT

A culture of inclusion allows each employee to reach their potential.

Nike prohibits harassment and discrimination. Diversity and inclusion are strengths. Bullying or diminishing conduct of any kind is not tolerated. Speak up if you see inappropriate behavior.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Avoid actions that are at odds with Nike's interests.

Conflicts arise when personal interests interfere with Nike's business. Examples include:

- Supervising someone with whom you have a close personal relationship.
- Owning or working for a competitor.
- Accepting gifts that create obligation.

Having a conflict is not necessarily a violation, but failing to disclose it is.
